Title
Development of intercity cooperation in Yokohama

Summary
(1) History and achievements of international cooperation in Yokohama
   - Role of foreign engineers in the Meiji Era in the improvement of the urban base
   - Pioneering international cooperation activities of the waterworks bureau and port bureau in the 1970s
   - Intercity cooperation through the establishment of CITYNET in 1987

(2) Past international cooperation schemes
   - International cooperation through sister cities, independent cooperation
   - International cooperation in response to requests from the national government and JICA
   - International cooperation in response to requests from CITYNET

(3) Development of new intercity cooperation linkages with JICA, CITYNET
   - JICA (Technical cooperation): Preservation of the Bali mynah (Leucopsar rothschildi)
   - Intercity technical cooperation using CITYNET: Training of port managers
   - Intercity technical cooperation linking JICA and CITYNET: Training for disaster prevention